

Pumas Beat Valpo 32-0; Remain Undefeated

—Summary on page three—
As a conclusion to their second successive undefeated season the St. Joe Pumas humbled Valparaiso U. Saturday, 32 to 0. Again it was sophomore George Ellspermann in the spotlight. Captain Pete Varini concluded his collegiate career with two touchdown runs.

The triple-threat Ellsper-mann was just too elusive for the Valpo team. George collected three touchdowns on runs of 70, 67, and 21 yards. The senior captain, although still suffering from a back injury, marked up his scores on touchdown runs of 23 and 8 yards.

Near the end of the initial stanza, Conny Vanderkolk intercepted a Crusader pass and returned to the St. Joe 19-yard line. In two plays Wisniewski and Ellspermann picked up 14 yards. With the ball on the 33-yard marker, Ellspermann chalked up his first score on an off-tackle run of 67 yards. The sophomore back then chalked up the seventh point by placement.

In the second quarter the Pumas marched 50 yards for a tally. Dick Kindig, Don Schrenk, and George Ellspermann alternated at carrying the ball to the Valpo 21. Ellspermann then skirted right end for the marker. His kick for point was wide.

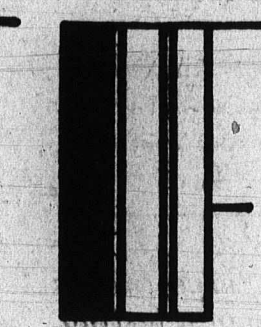

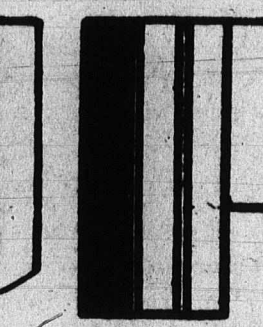

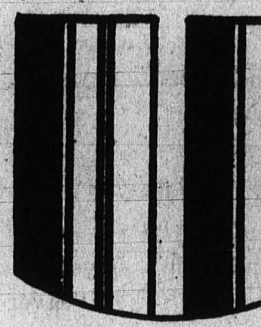

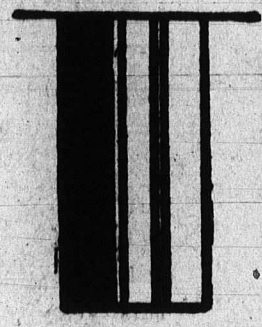

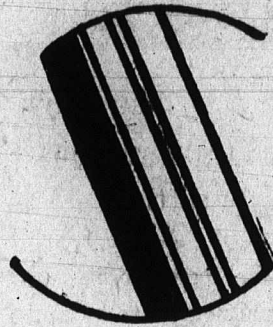

Resuming their scoring activity early in the third period, St. Joe recovered a Crusader fumble on the Valpo

23. This time Captain Pete teamed with Ellspermann in carrying the ball to the nine-yard line. The Puma captain then went through center for the third St. Joe score of the afternoon. Ellspermann's placement for point was blocked. Score: St. Joe 19; Valparaiso 0.

Curtain Club Play Set for Nov. 30

Shown here in a scene from the Curtain Club comedy, "Set That To Music," are (left to right) Bernard Royle, Eugene Stiker, Louis Applehans, and Norbert Landino. The play is based upon life at college.

Community Group To Present "Set That to Music"

For the third time this semester the College Theatre will be the scene of a drama as the Curtain Club presents "Set That To Music," a college comedy by Frank Bush and Paul Cook, under the direction of the Rev. Robert Koch, C.P.P.S., next Monday evening, Nov. 30.

Theatre-goers are promised a very hilarious evening since the authors have developed a very involving and comical plot.

Bernard Royle, as Arthur Cadman, alias "Fanny Brooks," will essay the leading role in the play which was previously presented at Collegeville in 1934 by the C.L.S.

Bushell Heads Supporting Cast

Leading the supporting cast will be Ralph Bushell as Professor McPherson, a faculty advisor and woman hater, and his contrast Richard Kissner, as Mr. Wallace Stearns, a firm believer in co-education. Robert Silk, as Abe Ryan a promising young Jew, should detract nothing from the hilarity of the situation.

Being a college comedy with its setting at a fraternity house at Upland University, the play is expected to appeal to the Collegeville audience.

Brother Vic Zuber Observes Diamond Jubilee In Society

As he has for nearly a half century, Brother Victor Zuber, C.P.P.S., veteran mailman, made his morning trip to town Sunday. If his step was just a bit lighter, or his eyes brighter, it was because of the memories he had of the years gone by.

For Brother Victor observed his sixtieth anniversary as a member of the Congregation of the Most Precious Blood last Sunday. Coming to America from his native country, Switzerland, he entered the society November 22, 1882.

Brother Vic came to St. Joseph's December 3, 1894, just after the upper portion of the Administration Building had been completed. To him goes the credit for most of the fine trees that stand in orderly fashion on the Collegeville campus.

"Do those sixty years seem like a long time?" someone asked Brother Vic.

"No," he answered, "not when they're past and you look back on them."

High Mass Sung By Father Kenkel Marks Ceremony

A plaque, for all the St. Joseph's Alumni in the service of their country, was dedicated Sunday morning at 8:30 with a High Mass.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Kenkel, C.P.P.S., national president of St. Joseph's Alumni Association, was celebrant. The Very Rev. Dr. Aloys H. Dirksen, C.P.P.S., president of the college, delivered the sermon.

"There are many problems in the prosecution of the war and there will be many more in making the peace which cannot be solved with calipers and slide rules," said Father Dirksen. "They will require the best effort of trained minds."

"Only prayer will bring the war to a speedy conclusion and give us a just peace," Father Dirksen concluded.

Designed by the Rev. Clarence Schuerman, C.P.P.S., the plaque was built by the Revs. Edmund Guillozet, C.P.P.S., and John W. Baechle, C.P.P.S.

Its seven rows may be compared to the seven-branch candle stick. Inscribed below the names are these words, "For God and Country."

Community Student Continues Fr. Ley's Bio-Dynamic Farming

By Dick Schreiber

Carrying out the experiments in bio-dynamic farming started here by the Rev. Sylvester H. Ley, C.P.P.S., Emil Schuway, sixth-year community student, has already started work on a compost mixture to be used in the college garden.

Even as Schuway moved ahead with his plans, it was announced that Father Ley is a member of the Bio-Dynamic Farming and Gardening Association, founded by E. Pfeiffer, M. D., of the Kimberton Farms, Phoenixville, Pa.

Dr. Pfeiffer, a native of Switzerland, brought the bio-dynamic movement to this country. He has since been conducting experiments both here and abroad.

Helping Schuway in the garden next spring, and with the compost mixture this winter, are Cornelius Fenton, Linus Brungardt, and William Eillerman.

Will Treat Four Acres

Approximately four acres will be given the compost treatment, designed to infuse certain helpful bacteria into the soil. The compost continues to exert a beneficial effect upon the soil for several years following its original application.

In his original experiment, Father Ley demonstrated that the compost mixture was far more effective than commercial fertilizer. The compost on poorer soil, brought forth a greater yield of corn than a tract of better soil treated with commercial fertilizer.

Potatoes, cabbage, strawberries, rhubarb, lettuce, carrots, onions, beets, sugar corn, and beans will be planted in Schuway's garden.

College Mission Will Come Next Semester

According to an announcement from the Very Rev. Dr. Aloys H. Dirksen, C.P.P.S., president of St. Joseph's, the mission, generally held shortly before Christmas, will be held this school year early in the second semester.

Following a precedent established last year, there will be a week long period of spiritual conferences. Regular classes will be held throughout the mission, so the program of studies will not be interrupted.

Ray Hemmert Gives Talk on Cyclotrons

Speaking on "Cyclotrons," Ray Hemmert, sophomore from Wapakoneta, Ohio, addressed the Albertus Magnus Society Friday evening at their semi-monthly meeting.

Ray gave a very descriptive discussion on the Cyclotron, a machine weighing four thousand tons, which is used to smash atoms.

There are about thirty-five of these machines now in operation.

John Terveer Ill

John Terveer, sophomore from Decatur, Indiana, is ill in the Infirmary. According to his brother David, he is recovering and should be up and around the campus in a few days.

Romain Wilhelmsen Makes Miniature Autos His Hobby

By Jack Jutt

You may awaken some morning to the refrain of an automobile racing track. Be now informed that it will be E. Romain Wilhelmsen giving his model car, the Joe Babo, a trial run. Wilhelmsen, an 18-year-old freshman from Detroit, Michigan, is a graduate of St. Ambrose High School.

The car is eighteen inches long and is powered by a one-fifth horsepower gasoline engine. Parts for it were purchased from various companies throughout the country, and were assembled by Wilhelmsen in August of this year.

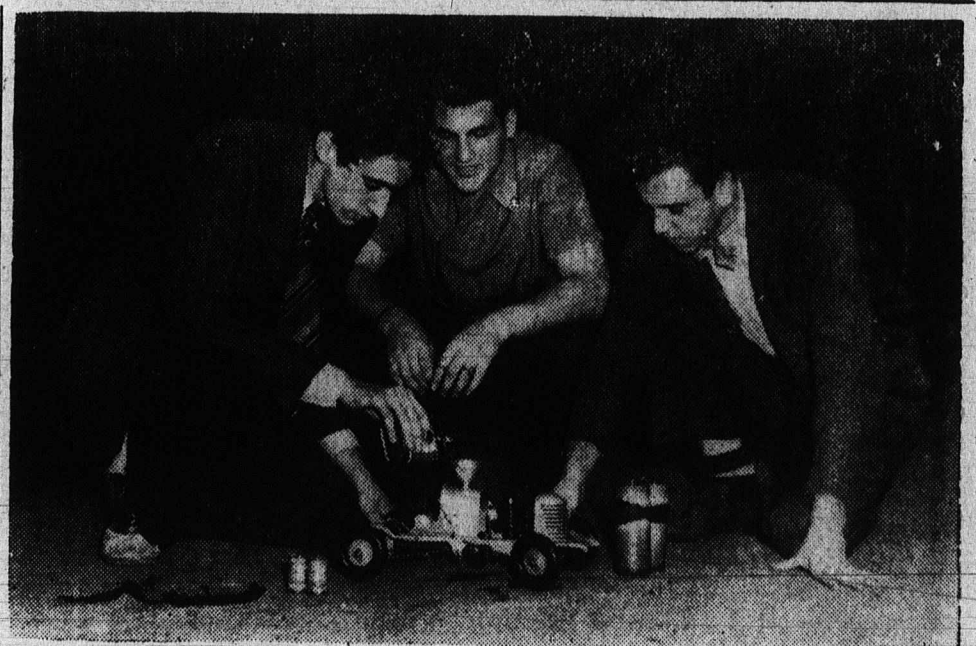

In its construction he employed several original ideas.

Its one-fifth horsepower gasoline engine will carry the car at the speed of 50 miles per hour.

Will Install Second Motor

Romain is planning to install an additional one-fifth horsepower engine. This should double the revolutions per second, and increase the speed to approximately 90 miles per hour, just a few miles short of the world record. Never, according to

WHAT ARE YOU GOING to be thankful for this Thanksgiving Day?

There are so many things to remember this year that it would be difficult to pick out any one for which to be especially thankful. Americans could be thankful for just being alive, and for the kind of life that is their good fortune. They could be thankful for the rich heritage that is theirs, thankful for an opportunity to defend that heritage, to strengthen it. They could be thankful for the fact that they are living in a democracy, that they have the right to vote and to speak their mind on political subjects at any and all times. They could be thankful for the vast riches of their country. But above all they should be thankful for the little things in their lives.

It's a great privilege, you know, to be able to flick a switch on your radio and listen to any program you wish, or to turn it off if you tire of it. It's a great privilege to read the newspaper of your own choice, and to disagree with that paper when you think they are wrong. It's a great privilege to go down to church—whether that church be a great cathedral or a small country frame building matters not. It's a great privilege to be able to stand in a crowd and half whisper a prayer and not be afraid that the heavy hand of the secret police will fall upon your shoulder. It's a great privilege, too, just to be able to sit down by yourself, in some quiet corner, to quietly fight your own personal battles according to your own ideals.

What are we going to be thankful for when Thanksgiving comes this year? Why not be thankful for the little things?—the things one never notices until they have disappeared; the things one never remembers until hours, or days, or years later. For it is the little things, like the little men, who really are America.

Following the Flickers

With Dick Schreiber

SOME DAY HOLLYWOOD SHOULD make a good, documentary feature about the tent show business. There have been a few flickers with a tent-show background, but none of them came close to recapturing the atmosphere of the sawdust trail.

Many of the greatest names in show business came up the hard way, working under swinging lanterns and dim electric lights on a small tent-show stage.

There is something as down-to-earth about tent shows as rolled oats or fried mush. Perhaps someday Hollywood will work on the idea.

RITZ: Friday & Saturday

The Weaver Brothers and Elviry—who played the old Palace Theatre in vaudeville's heyday—are currently in "The Old Homestead." The Weavers' brand of humor is a homespun sort of humor and so is likely to be 'corny' at times. Legion Rating: A-1.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

Here's the story you've been waiting for: The heroic tale of courageous American flyers who battled the Japs for months before the U. S. actually went to war. It is the story of "The Flying Tigers," starring John Carroll, John Wayne, Anna Lee, and Paul Kelly. There's plenty of action here. Legion Rating: A-1.

PALACE: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

With a brand new hairdo—that does away with much of the gray—Jack Benny comes back to the screen with Ann Sheridan in "George Washington Slept Here." Legion Rating: A-1.

The original idea for this play was written by Moss Hart and George Kaufman and their play enjoyed a long run along the Great White Way. When you put Benny's slapstick in contrast with Ann Sheridan's oomph, you're bound to come up with something that is, at least, entertaining. And that is all "George Washington Slept Here" is supposed to be.

RITZ: Wednesday & Thursday

Don (the mustache) Ameche and Joan Bennett (looking less like Hedy LaMar this time) are cast in "Girl Trouble." This is a comedy about a South American rubber grower who tries to interest an American tire magnate in his product. That much is timely. Thrown in for good measure to round out the cast are Frank Craven and Billie Burke. Legion Rating: A-2.

What Has America To Be Thankful For?

By Vincent Giese

On this coming Thursday America will again bow her head in Thanksgiving prayer, just as she has always done since the day of the early settler.

The members of many families will have to join together in spirit this year to commemorate Thanksgiving; for families that a year ago prayed in common under one roof, are now torn apart by the existing war. Yet America as always will be thankful for much this year.

This week STUFF approached the students with this question, What has America to be thankful for this year? Here are their answers. . . .

Walter Donahue, junior from Cleveland, Ohio, "America can be thankful that her people are working up to the proper attitude and spirit of cooperation needed in this war for victory."

Richard Trost, sophomore from Zanesville, Ohio, said, "We can be thankful for the freedoms, especially the freedom of religion; thankful that ours is just cause in this present conflict. We can also be thankful that we have had enough to eat."

Fred Berghoff, sophomore from Fort Wayne, Ind., gave a very striking answer to our question when he said, "America can be thankful this Thanksgiving that she can sit down to a turkey dinner, and not have to stand up to Heil Hitler; she can be thankful that she still has a church to attend. Above all America can be thankful that she is still able to be thankful."

Here are the words of Bob Kelly, sophomore from Gary, Ind., "I believe that America can be thankful for her high quality of men and educational and religious background needed to win this war. She can be thankful that she still has her precious freedoms."

"We can be thankful this year that we live in a country that conducts her wars in a democratic manner. The present college student can be thankful that he still has the opportunity to continue with his

Senior Sketches

By Tom Scheiber

Jasper's gift to the senior class of St. Joseph's is Bernard John Hoffman who was born in that southern Indiana town on March 4, 1920.

Bernie attended Jasper High School; his athletic achievements there are probably still remembered as is indicated by the fact that he was selected captain of the Jasper basketball team in his junior and senior years.

At St. Joe, Bernie's basketball accomplishments are nothing to be passed up either; he will be after his fourth year letter this coming season and probably a few scoring records, too. Last year Bernie was high in team scoring and runner-up in the Indiana state scoring race.

Majoring in accounting, Bernie, a four-year man in the Raleigh Smoking Club, too, will be graduated next spring. At present he is enlisted in the Naval Reserve V-7 program and will probably be called soon after graduation unless an emergency requires his withdrawal from school sooner. His future after the war is still somewhat uncertain.

college education." These were the words of senior Ed Ritter of Scottsburg, Ind.

The above group admitted that there are many more general things which America can be thankful for this year; but that they wanted to point out special advantages which are more striking this year than in others. They have suggested thoughts for us to ponder on as we bow our heads in prayer this Thanksgiving day. Let us remember them.

Curtain Goes Up On Basketball Dec. 4

Puma Prints

By John Feicht

Three members of the Pumas football team were selected by Blaine Patton of the Indianapolis Star on his All-Conference team of 1942. One man was nominated for a second-team berth.

Captain Pete Varini made his third appearance on the team as one of the backfielders. Junior end, Tom Scollard, made his initial entry on the squad, replacing his brother Nick who had been picked for the last several seasons. The third St. Joe griddler on the first squad was Conny Vanderkolk. This senior has held down the pivot post in all the team's games for the last two years.

A second team berth was awarded to quarterback Stan Lapsys. This senior has played four years at the signal-calling post and could easily be ranked as one of the leading quarterbacks of the mid-west.

It's too bad that Mr. Patton couldn't have seen the St. Joe-Butler game. Maybe then he would have noticed that Bill Smith and George Ellspermann are also currently starring on the Pumas eleven.

Bowling will make its entrance at St. Joe very shortly. This will be the first time that this sport has been considered under the I-M program. Other years the students formed and ran the leagues, which weren't any too successful.

Two players who probably received the least credit for their work during the football season were Heine Kauffmann and Chester Skrabacz. In his first year of varsity competition, Heine played plenty of football for St. Joe. Operating from the guard position, Kauffmann continually acted as the fifth man in the opponent's backfield.

Skrabacz, who started the season as a center and was made into an end, turned in some excellent defensive football. Chet is no slouch on offense either.

I-M football seems to have reached a new high this season. Although there have not been as many games played as the fellows would like to play the competition and spirit shown couldn't be excelled.

If basketball games contain this same spirit and fight by the participants, there is no reason why this shouldn't be a banner year for St. Joe intra-murals.

After watching the basketball team scrimmage several times, I am quite certain that St. Joseph's will capture its share of victories on the hardwood this coming season.

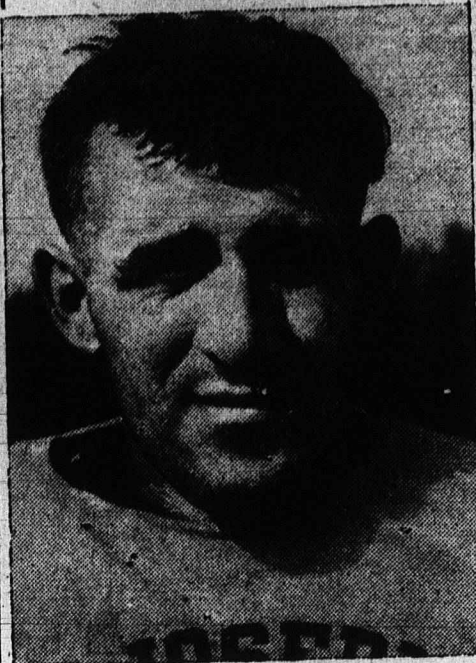

The team has pretty good height, plenty of speed, some very capable passers, and plenty of replacements.

Next week a complete recap of the football season.

Student Bowlers Form Intra-Mural League

With the assistance of league director, Rev. Edward Roof, C.P.P.S., plans for the Intra-Mural bowling league were formulated last Thursday at a meeting of the team captains.

Schedules were arranged so that each team will bowl once a week. It was decided that a handicap method would be used and that trophies and other prizes would be awarded.

Feicht Is President

Father Roof selected as officers of the league John Feicht, president; Paul Birkmeier, vice-president; Ray Hemmert, secretary; and Stan Pukelis, treasurer. Team captains besides the four above mentioned names are Don Kremp, Art Hoctor, John Beall, and John Caron.

This is the first time that bowling has been an Intra-Mural sport at St. Joseph's.

Commerce Club to Have Discussion on New Deal

A general discussion of the New Deal will feature the next Commerce Club meeting, which will be held on Dec. 7 in Science Hall.

Chairman Paul Brunton stated that Edward O'Donnell, James Shields, and LeRoy Huenefeld will take the affirmative side in the discussion, while Gus Curshane, Fred Crimmins, and John Beall will oppose them. The discussion will be turned over to the entire club.

President Ed. Ritter announced that the possibility of the club enrolling in the Catholic Economics Society, recently organized at Notre Dame, would be discussed.

Accept Terveer

John Terveer, sophomore from Decatur, Indiana, who recently applied for entrance into the Marquette University Medical School, has been accepted and will enter the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, institution with the beginning of the fall term next October.

Terveer, a member of the Albertus Magnus Society, Raleigh Smoking Club, and the staff of Measure, to which he is also a contributor, will have had the equivalent of three regular school years' work at St. Joseph's when he enters Marquette. He entered St. Joseph's in the fall of 1941.

Xavier Hall Wins Over Drexel 13-7

Playing in a freezing wind the Xavier Hall touch football team crushed Drexel Hall, 13-7, Sunday on the Puma field.

Xavier struck with lightning-like rapidity, scoring in the first thirty seconds. Stiker recovered for Xavier on the five after Drexel had fumbled the opening kickoff. On the first play, Quarterback Fenton circled his own right end to score. Aumen passed to Young for the extra point which raised the count to 7-0.

Midway in the second quarter the Xavierites struck again. Hinder intercepted a Drexel aerial on Drexel's thirty and returned it to the twenty-one. Two plays later Halfback Bob Silk tossed a twenty-yard forward to end Hinder on the one-foot line. After a few ground play attempts, Silk passed to Boccardi in the end zone. The pass for extra point was no good.

Xavier Player Fumbles

Neither team could advance into enemy territory until the middle of the fourth period when a fourth-down fumble by Xavier gave the ball to Drexel on Xavier's twenty. J. M. Murphy promptly passed to Bob Stadtmiller to the one-yard line. The spirited Xavierites, however, checked Drexel's scoring threats. The spirited Xavierites, however, still refusing to give up, Drexel took the succeeding punt on the Xavier twenty-five. Stadtmiller passed to Gil Hodge on the 5. After two attempts Drexel scored as Murphy shot a forward over the goal line to Herges. Charley Hodge dropped

Joy In Dressing Room After Puma Valpo Tilt

By John Feicht

You couldn't have found a happier gang of fellows than were in the St. Joe dressing room after the victory over Valpo Saturday afternoon. Captain Pete Varini couldn't have been any happier, even though the leader of the Pumas was in agony, because of a sore back.

All the seniors were chattering excitedly and they had a right to, for they all played excellent football.

Line coach, Henry Kosalko, working on the players, cutting tape off ankles, and rubbing down bruises kept telling the boys that hard work at practice was the reason for their success.

Experienced and inexperienced alike were getting in plenty of words per minute. Soon, laughter, and back-slapping were just ways of expressing the joy everyone felt.

Catholic Book Exhibit Has Successful Week

National Catholic Book Week, observed at St. Joseph's with a special display in the library, came to a close Saturday evening, Nov. 21.

Planned by the Revs. Raphael Gross, C.P.P.S., professor of English, and the Rev. Clarence Schuerman, C.P.P.S., head librarian, the exhibit had for its theme the Golden Thread of Catholic Classics.

"Meant to stir up interest in Catholic Literature among the students, the exhibit was a great success; and from all indications, the response of the students was better than that of last year," commented Father Gross and Father Schuerman.

kicked the extra point to conclude the scoring at 13-7.

Xavier intercepted a total of twelve Drexel aeriels to check the Drexel offense. Numerous fumbles occurred which kept the game lively throughout.

The next contest will be between Drexel and Noll Hall. Drexel previously defeated Noll 6-0 which indicates that Noll will go all out for this contest. The winner of the Noll-Drexel meeting will clash with Xavier for the championship.

Gas, Tire Rationing Worries Hardwood Squad This Season

The varsity basketball setup for this year has undergone many changes and faces more variations in the future according to Coach Joe Deinhart. The most serious problem which confronts the future of the sport is that of transportation. With tire and gas rationing nothing is definite.

Coach Joe intends to keep about twenty-five boys on the varsity squad this year. This does not mean, however, that more players will be taken on the trips. The unit system of substitution will also be employed when possible. In this way it is hoped that more players will receive more experience. Thus the physical training program will also be benefited.

Bernie Hoffman Captain

Bernie Hoffman, senior letterman, will captain the team this year. Bernie is high scorer of last year's team and holder of the record at St. Joe of having dumped 38 points in the bucket in one game. Well liked by everyone and an excellent leader, he is a natural for that post.

No captain will be elected at the conclusion of this season. Instead the players will select a most valuable player.

A few freshmen have also been showing up well enough in practice to indicate that they will aid the cause of St. Joe's cage team to a great extent. Mike Sokol, Joe Luchi, Dick Krouse, Ed Rumbach, Dave Terveer, and George Laubacher serve notice that they know a little about the game.

Valpo Game

the third quarter, Puma end Jim Buckley recovered a Valpo fumble on their 27. Two plays picked up four yards and then Varini crashed through center for a 23-yard touchdown run. Wisniewski's kick was nullified by an offside penalty and his second attempt fell short.

Shortly after the start of the final period, George Ellspermann received a punt on his own 30-yard marker. The sophomore star started toward the center of the field, squirmed and twisted for about 15 yards and then cut to the left and galloped the remaining distance for his third touchdown. George then concluded the St. Joe scoring activities for the afternoon by kicking the extra point.

There was no doubt that St. Joe was the superior team from the start of the fracas. Coach Deinhart's frequent substitution policy afforded every member of the squad a chance to show his worth.

Defensively the entire St. Joe team played heads-up football. Bob Shields and Stan Lapsys were frequent visitors in the Valpo backfield. The former not only blocked a kick but also recovered a Valpo fumble which put the Pumas in scoring position.

Date of Glee Club Concert Indefinite

Although the date for the coming program of St. Joseph's College Glee Club is as yet indefinite, it will be held in the College Theatre around December 15, according to the Rev. Robert Koch, C.P.P.S., director of the glee club. This will be the first public appearance of the club since its concert in Fort Wayne last spring.

The program for the concert is also in the tentative stages but will, in all probability, be completed soon; several solos and novelty numbers are still uncertain. Appropriate for the times and the season, the program will be of a combined patriotic and Christmas theme.

There are 24 Alumni chaplains in various branches of service. Fourteen of these belong to the Precious Blood Society. Of the Alumni in service, five have already given their lives. They are Paul Stenz, Lee Moran, Martin S. Draths, Robert Dordyce, and Paul Coufins.

Part of Alumni Program

Dedication of the service plaque is part of the active program at St. Joseph's for honoring the Alumni in service. Every evening, at Benediction, special prayers are said for their well-being, and the Sanguinist Club conducts a Sunday adoration period for the same intention. STUFF and Contact, the latter the Alumni newspaper, are mailed to all Alumni stationed in this country.

The plaque will be hung on the epistle side in the vestibule of the Chapel, facing a plaque perpetuating the names of Alumni who gave their lives in World War I.

Turkey Real Holiday Spirit To Prevail on Campus

It looks as if St. Joseph's College will go all out for a Thanksgiving dinner again this year. At least the menu for the perennial feast, which has been announced by the Precious Blood Sisters, seems tempting enough to change some of the students' minds who had intended to go home to get their turkey.

Nevertheless, Turkey or no turkey, most of the students will take advantage of the day and a half vacation and the cut system to go home to celebrate the Holiday and also to talk over with their parents some of the draft problems which are facing most of them.

Vacation Starts Wednesday

As we go to press the vacation will definitely begin and close as scheduled in the catalogue. All classes will be called at Wednesday noon and resume again Friday morning, with the cut system in force.

For those who are staying on the campus over Thanksgiving, here is the menu for Thanksgiving dinner.

Grape juice lemonade, roast turkey, dressing, gravy, glazed sweet potatoes, whipped potatoes, buttered asparagus, cranberry orange salad, celery, pickles, radishes, pumpkin pie, ice cream, cake, hot rolls, and coffee, and cream.

Sanguinists to Install Officers at Meeting

Officers elected at a meeting on November 16 were installed at the regular meeting of the Sanguinist Club for Catholic Action held tonight (Monday).

Following the installation of officers plans for the year's activities were outlined. The Sanguinists have as their purpose the spread of Catholic Action, through personal contact and their semi-monthly bulletin, The Sanguinist.

According to present plans, the club will meet twice a month on the second and fourth Mondays. At the first monthly meeting all business matters will be cleared. The second meeting will be devoted to a discussion of some phase of Catholic Action. Various members of the faculty will address the Sanguinists from time to time.

Dallwig to Speak On Gems, Jewels, Junk

Coming to Collegeville on Tuesday, Dec. 15, is Paul G. Dallwig, noted scientific lecturer, who will speak on "Gems, Jewels, and Junk."

Dallwig's lecture will be the second science program on the entertainment program for this year and the fourth in the year's series. His appearance here was arranged after the annual STUFF poll last spring in which students expressed a preference for scientific lectures. The Rev. Henry Retzek, M.A., was the first scientist to speak here this semester.

"I am," says Dallwig, "a lawyer by profession, a business man by accident, and a scientist by remote control."

Since 1937 he has been lecturing every Sunday afternoon in the Field Museum at Chicago. He has, he says, made lecturing his hobby.

The Academy Corner

By Ed McElroy

Gentleman of the Week presents Bob Richert, senior from Kankakee, Ill., who was born September 27, 1925 at Kankakee, Ill. He graduated from St. Pat's grammar school, Kankakee, Ill., in 1939. He entered St. Joe in 1941.

While at St. Joe's Bob has been a member of the Newman Club for two years. At the present time he is vice-president of the Newman Club. He was first-string center on the basketball team last year and will be again this year. He had a total of 79 points for the season. He played first-string right half on the Academy's first football team this year.

After graduating from the Academy he will continue his education if possible or join the Army Air Corps.

No doubt the most-talked-about subject in the Academy this week was the extension of the Thanksgiving vacation to Sunday evening instead of Thursday evening. At last the time has come. Thanksgiving is almost upon us. We really have a lot for which to be thankful: That we are Catholics, and that we belong to an institution like St. Joseph's Academy. On this Thanksgiving, then, even more perhaps than on others, we should be prayerful and thankful for the many benefits that are ours.

Seniors Meet

The senior class had a meeting last week, discussing many of the coming events. The first topic discussed by the senior president, Rich Latendresse, was the semi-monthly town night which is to be taken the Monday before Thanksgiving vacation. Probably the most stressed topic before the senior class was the Academy yearbook. Plans were made to determine exactly how much money could be raised. The seniors wish to accomplish the task of financing the yearbook for this year.

Remember Yearbook

When you go home for your Thanksgiving vacation this week don't forget the yearbook. Rally around; do some hard work; remember that if an Academy yearbook is published this year it will be the second one in the school's history.

News Notes

Rudy Gildenhous says he is the poet laureat of the Academy.... Charley Teaney and Bob Kremp have been setting mouse traps in the dormitory.... So far they have five victims.... Francis Rieck stoutly asserts that he is master of Jim Carney when it comes to an ordeal of fisticuffs.... Brother Francis has three brothers in the armed forces. This surely keeps Brother writing plenty of letters.... Bill Spresser's chief experiment is finding out what makes his shoes sing "squeak." Don't think too hard Bill; you'll hurt yourself.
